

From the Pastor's Desk

Fr. Robert Héту

Author, Doug Schmidt, in his book entitled: The Prayer Of Revenge: Forgiveness In The Face Of Injustice, shares some of his struggles with a hostile mother who was a manic-depressive. Life is his home was like walking on eggshells. Yet God, in God's graciousness, caused other mothers to come into the lives of this author and his sister, to mentor them in a loving and compassionate ways. Their singular message to these children was this: "Never let your suffering create a long-lasting sense of entitlement in your hearts." Sure it is okay to pamper yourself a bit when you have been hurt, to rest for a while, perhaps to regroup, but do not allow this time of retreat to become a permanent state. If you do, your suffering will produce a well-entrenched but false sense of entitlement that will only end up causing you to hurt those who genuinely care about you.

One of life's greatest challenges is not to allow history to repeat itself. Many people are a 'chip off the old block' and literally repeat the failings of their parents and grandparents. On our faith journey, let us pray that we will not let our past hurts determine who we are today or will be tomorrow. Let us learn to forgive and forget and let God take care of the rest. "If God is for us, who is against us?" (Romans 8:31b)

May we let go of our past hurts, take control of our present life, and let God led us to a glorious future in heaven.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT: "The Rosary is the storehouse of countless blessings." ~ Pope St. John Paul

LAUGHTER GOOD FOR THE SOUL: Father O'Grady was saying his goodbyes to the parishioners after the Sunday morning Mass as he always does when Mary Clancy came up to him in tears. "What's bothering you so, dear?" inquired Farther O'Grady. "Oh, Father, I've got terrible news." Replied Mary. "Well, what is it, Mary?" "Well, my husband, passed away last night, Father." "Oh, Mary," said the priest, "that's terrible. Tell me Mary, did he have any last requests?" "Well, yes he did Father," replied Mary. "What did he ask, Mary?" Mary replied, "He said, 'Please, Mary, put down the gun!'"
