From the Pastor's Desk

Fr. Robert Hétu

This week, we celebrated the annual Week of Prayer for Christian Unity. The theme, this year, is taken from Ephesians 4:4 "There is one body and one Spirit, just as you were called to the one hope of your calling." This is an invitation to all Christians to truly become followers of Jesus and in turn share the good news with others.

In today's Gospel, we have the calling of the first apostles Simon-Peter, along with his brother Andrew and the Zebedee brothers James and John. Saskia Sivananthan reminds us that: "Every day thousands of men and women hear a call to be priests, nuns, teachers, healers and more. They have described that call as so urgent and strong that they drop the lives they are leading to follow it."

Our call might not be as urgent and strong as others; nevertheless, by our baptism and confirmation, we have all been called by Jesus. Yes, we are called to believe, to trust and to live lives that reflect our living faith. Through the examples of the apostles, we are reminded we need to have absolute faith in God, even to be willing to leave the life we know to follow him. God is calling. Are we listening? Do we hear? The rewards are heavenly!

FOOD FOR THOUGHT: "One kind word can warm three winter months." ~ Japanese Proverb

LAUGHTER GOOD FOR THE SOUL: The strongman at a circus squeezed the juice from a lemon between his hands. He then said to the audience, "I will offer $200 to anyone in the audience who can squeeze another drop from this lemon." A thin scholarly looking woman came forward, picked up the lemon, strained hard and managed to get a drop. The strongman was amazed. He paid the woman and asked, "What is the secret of your strength?" "Practice," the woman answered. "I was the treasurer of a church for thirty-two years!"

Parenting Tip

Parents constantly undertake the task of correcting poor behaviour in their children. To help them grow to be good and capable adults, it is important they learn proper behaviours, etiquette and good manners; parents are the first and foremost educators of all of these. Instead of reprimanding when undesired behaviours arise, ask them how they should be acting, or what would be a better way to act? Take a moment to remind them that their Baptism calls them to follow a better way, undertaking the same actions that Jesus would, ways of caring, love and compassion. Relating their behaviours to their faith provides a guidepost for actions throughout their lives and a way to live fully their Baptism.

Marriage Tip

Gratitude has proven to be one way that we can feel more joy in our everyday living. In our marriages, all the good moments can slip past our awareness when we focus instead on those that are annoying. What if you took time at the end of each day to review the day with eyes of gratitude instead of discontent? You would find that you can be thankful for so many things, for example: a spouse to share your home with, to share parenting with, to make you coffee or dinner, to the shared glance, smile or kiss that day. And there is more: a person who shares your values, who supports your faith, someone who is a forever friend. When we focus on gratitude, our relationship has a different look and feel and both spouse's benefit! (From: Teresa Hartnett, Family Ministry Office; 905-528-7988 ext. 2250)
